

SOUNDTRACK TO THE YEAR WE'LL NEVER FORGET

Giving Young People A Voice in 2020

In 2012 Action Amanda wrote 'Big Songs for Little Ones' to give children something they didn't have - music that was made for them, that resonated with them... lyrics that were powerful, contemporary and opened their eyes on the big wide world. The tracks about looking after one another, celebrating diversity and caring for our planet were relevant then, but they've taken on a whole new meaning in 2020.

Sing A Rainbow

Rainbows are everywhere this year - a symbol of togetherness and hope. This track is a fitting tribute to the strength, resilience and courage children have shown and a great big thank you to all the frontline health workers and key workers who are bravely fighting the fight against Covid-19.

1,2,3,4,5... it takes 5 to make the world come alive.

This track is about celebrating togetherness, diversity and our differences. It's about understanding that we all have a place, that every life matters and that together we are stronger.

When I Grow Up... what kind of world will be left for me?

A powerful reminder to those who choose to destroy lives, communities and our planet that this world isn't ours - it's something we all have a duty to protect for our children and our children's children.

Amanda has spent the past thirty years working with children and young people - encouraging them to be fit and healthy through fun, high-energy educational activities. She's the Children's Champion in Parliament - ensuring children are at the heart of all policy making.

"This year, children have been separated from their families, friends and teachers and forced to embrace fear and the unknown and yet, despite everything, they've shown such positivity and hope. From the very start of this crisis, my aim has been to champion them. By re-releasing these tracks with updated videos, along with my Wash Your Hands song I want to give them a voice and a way to express their feelings."
